

Subscription Audit

Every recurring charge. Keep, kill, downgrade. Cancel three.

The operator who doesn't control his recurring spend is renting his own freedom back to a dozen vendors. This week you pull every subscription — personal and business — into one list, let AI help you classify each as keep, kill, or downgrade, and you cancel at least three before Friday. The man who controls his recurring spend controls his time.

THE ACTION

- Pull your recurring charges from your bank and card statements (last 90 days).
- Feed the list to AI and ask it to group them and flag overlaps, dormant tools, and likely downgrades.
- Make the keep / kill / downgrade call on each — you decide, not the AI.
- Cancel at least three this week. Log the monthly dollars you freed up.

OPERATOR'S DISCIPLINE

Every dead subscription is a small leak below the waterline. None of them sinks you alone, but together they're why the budget never balances. Plug three this week.

SCRIPTURE

Luke 14:28 — "Which of you, intending to build a tower, does not sit down first and count the cost?"
Counting the cost includes the costs that auto-renew while you're not looking.
